General Study: Are you ready to take your impact on our students to the next level by becoming a full-time, certified teacher?

Our partners at TEACH Connecticut have free tools and services that help future teachers like you navigate the process. You'll get 1-on-1 career advice, resources to help you compare your options, and up to $1,100 in financial aid to help you apply to and enroll in a teaching program that's just right for you.

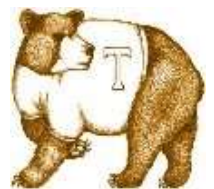

With more than 20 teaching programs throughout the state offering pathways to certification for anyone with or without a college degree, it's never been easier to find an option that's perfect for you.

DSAP Study: Looking to earn a teacher's salary while getting certified?

If you want to be a Thomaston teacher (with a full salary and benefits), have a bachelor's degree, and aren't yet certified to teach in Connecticut, we're reaching out with an exciting opportunity.

We need great teachers now more than ever, and we just can't wait to see you at the head of one of our classrooms. With a Durational Shortage Area Permit (DSAP), we can hire you to work as a Thomaston teacher while you work towards full certification! Are you ready to take the next step?

Our friends at TEACH Connecticut have an article and downloadable guide with step-by-step instructions for jumpstarting your teaching career with a DSAP.
